

13 UCI faculty members make prestigious list of highly cited researchers

Clarivate designation includes those who have 'demonstrated significant and broad influence in their field.'

Friday, November 17, 2023

Mike Uhlenkamp

UCI News

UCI's highly cited researchers, as determined by Clarivate, are (from left, top row) Amir AghaKouchak, James S. Bullock, Steven J. Davis and Candice L. Odgers; (middle row) Greg J. Duncan, Susan M. O'Brien, James T. Randerson, Sai-Hong Ignatius Ou and Nosratola D. Vaziri; (bottom row) Xiaoqing Pan, Vojislav Stamenkovic, Julian F. Thayer and Huolin Xin.

Picture Credit:

UCI

13 UCI faculty members have qualified for Clarivate's 2023 list of the most influential researchers – as “demonstrated by the production of multiple highly cited papers that rank in the top 1 percent by citations for field and year.”

They are Amir AghaKouchak of the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering; James S. Bullock of the Department of Physics and Astronomy (dean of the School of Physical Sciences); Steven J. Davis and James T. Randerson of the Department of Earth System Science; Greg J. Duncan of the School of Education; Susan M. O'Brien, Sai-Hong Ignatius Ou and Nosratola D. Vaziri of the Department of Medicine; Xiaoqing Pan of the Department of Materials Science and Engineering; Vojislav R. Stamenkovic of the Department of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering; Julian F. Thayer of the Department of Psychological Science; Huolin Xin, Department of Physics and Astronomy; and Candice L. Odgers of the Department of Psychological Science.

To view profiles of those who earned this distinction, visit Clarivate's Highly Cited Researchers list.

UCI News

News Briefs

Physics & Astronomy

Earth System Science

Awards

View PDF